

Perfect Love Casts Out All Fear: Mental Health, the Criminal Justice System and the Church

Presented by:

NBA Prison & Jail Ministries and
NBA Mental Health & Congregational Care Ministries
of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ)

Presenters:

Rev. Dean W. Bucalos

Angela Whitenhill, LCSW, M. Div.

Moderator: Rev. Monica Wedlock Kilpatrick

National Benevolent
Association
CALLED TOGETHER | CALLED TO CARE

We Have A Problem

In a 2006 Special Report, the Bureau of Justice Statistics (BJS) estimated that 705,600 mentally ill adults were incarcerated in state prisons; 78,800 in federal prisons; and 479,900 in local jails.

How We Got Here

Northern Hospital for the Insane
Oshkosh, Wisconsin

Mental Health Act of 1963

Early Community Mental Health Clinic

Trans-Institutionalized Beings

“Even more than other areas of health and medicine, the mental health field is plagued by disparities in the availability of and access to its services.” Consequently, many of the individuals released into the community without support ended up incarcerated; it is fair to say that, instead of being “deinstitutionalized,” a great number of individuals suffering with mental illness were, in fact, “trans-institutionalized” into America’s jails and prisons.

Mental Health: A Report of the Surgeon General, 1999

The Pendulum Swings

In 2012, there were 10 times as many mentally ill persons in prisons and jails than in state hospitals.

Hospitals:
35,000
mentally ill patients

Prisons and jails:
356,000
mentally ill inmates

Source: Treatment Advocacy Center

Mother Jones

The three largest mental health providers in the nation today are jails: Cook County in Illinois, Los Angeles County, and Riker's Island in New York.

Incarcerated Mental Health

Diagnosable substance use disorders

Serious mental illnesses in jails

In state prisons, prevalence of serious mental illness is 2 to 4 times higher than in the community.

9%
general population

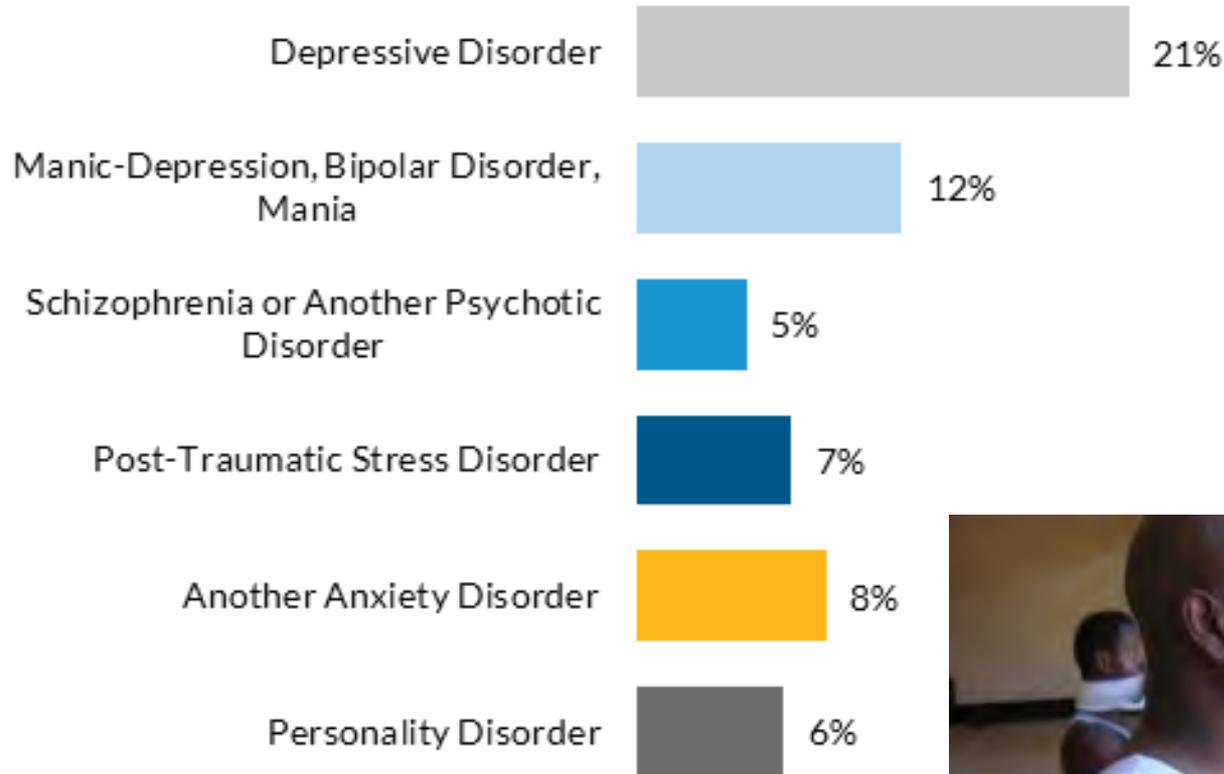

50%
in state prisons

fewer than 15%
receive appropriate treatment

68%
all jail inmates

What We Now Find

Prisoners' mental health issues

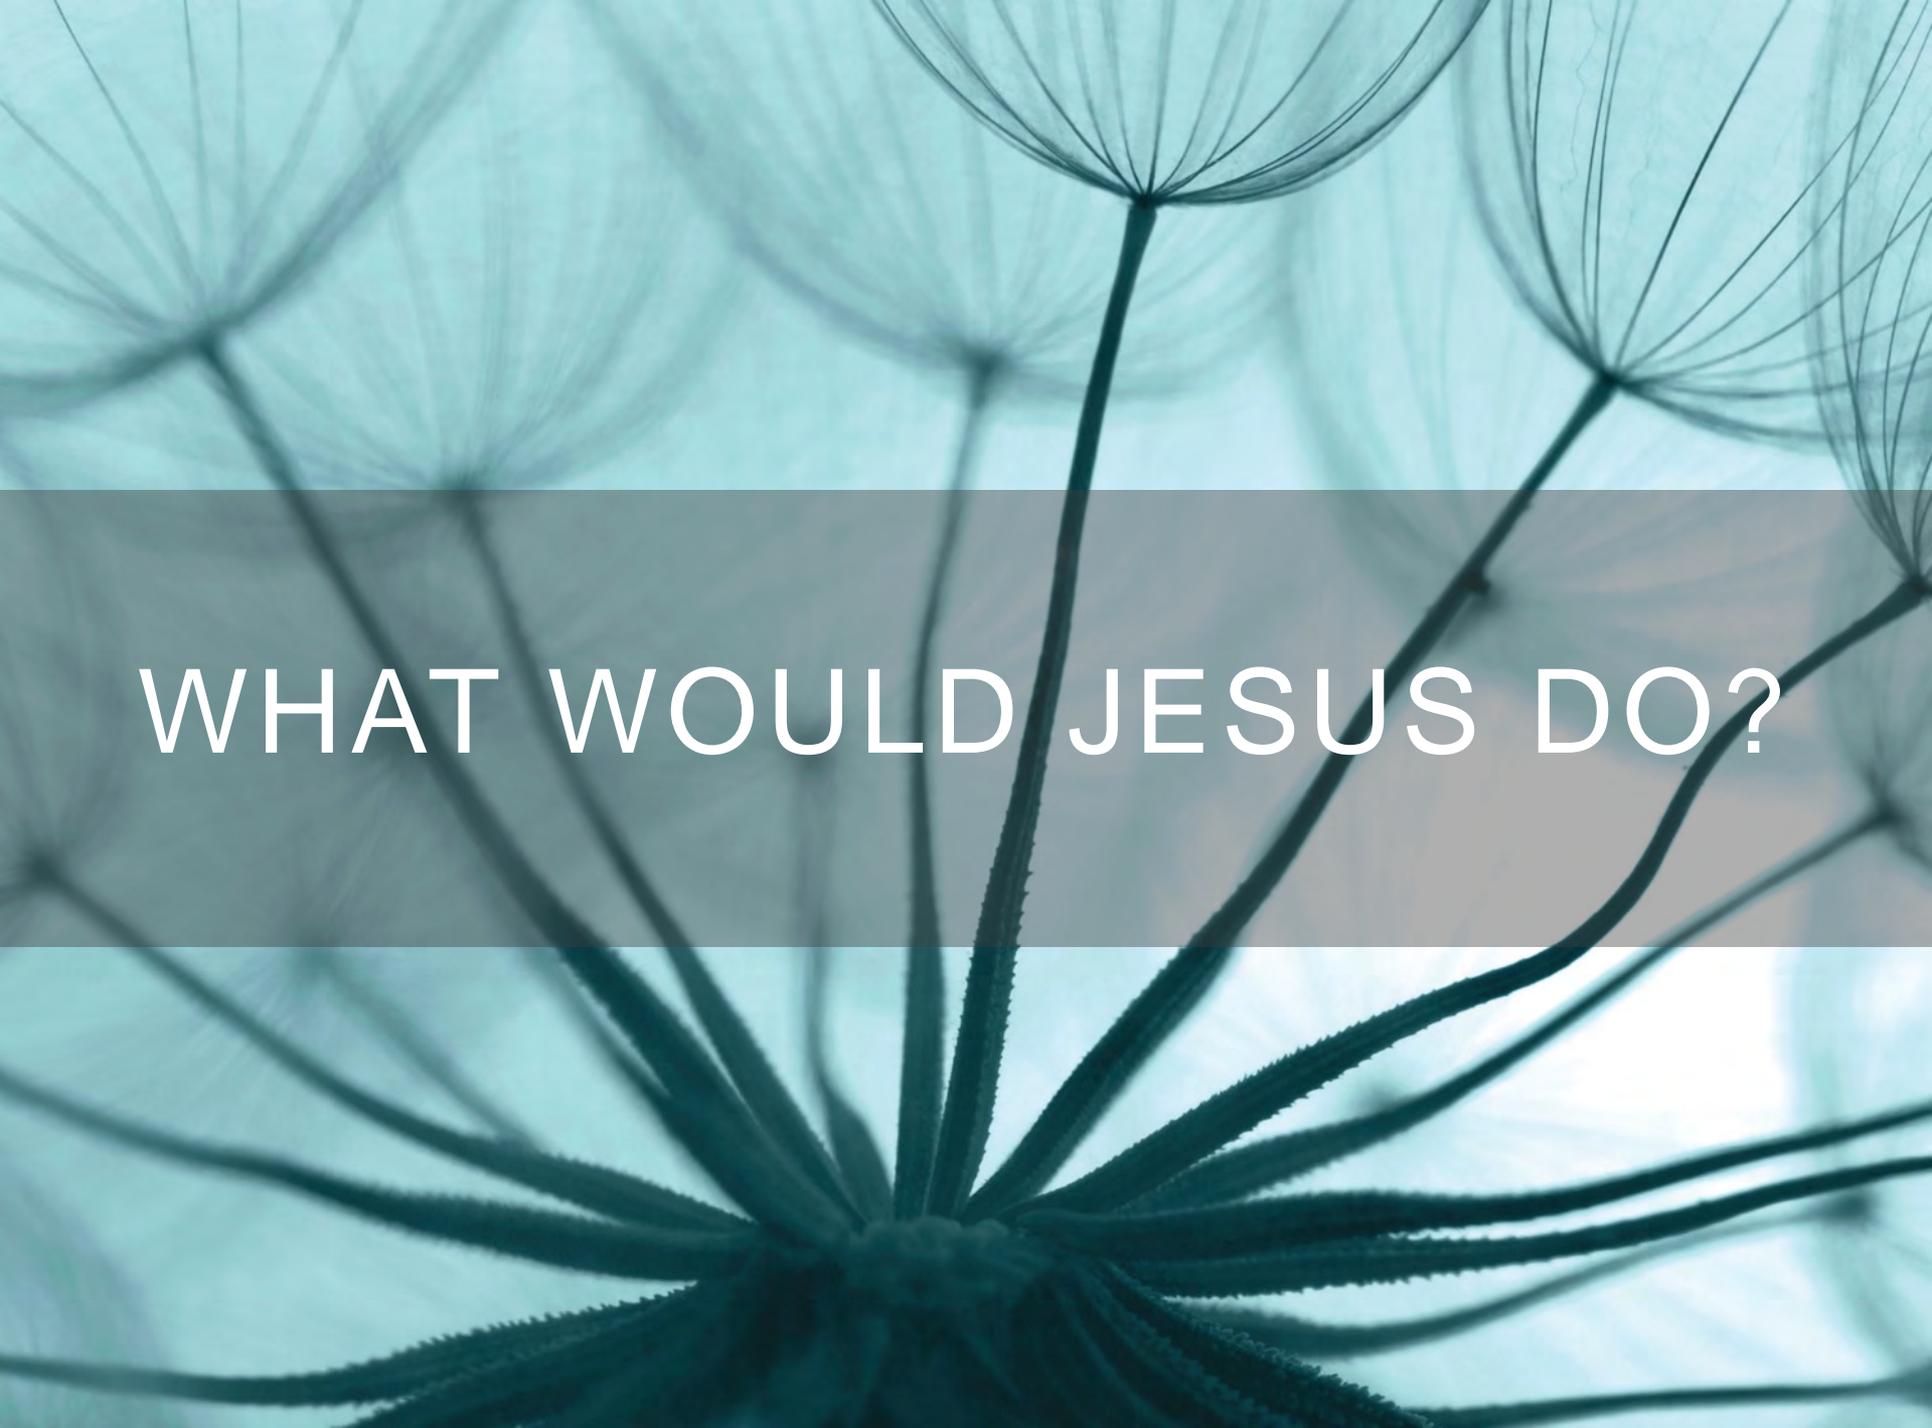

SUICIDE is the leading cause of death among inmates in local jails, and in the top five for state prisons.

A Strained System

- About 1 out of 3 state prisoners with mental health problems, 1 out of 4 federal prisoners, and 1 out of 6 jail inmates had received mental health treatment since admission.
- Taking a prescribed medication was the most common type of treatment.
- People with mental illnesses are overrepresented in probation and parole populations, at estimated rates ranging from two to four times the general population.

The background is a monochromatic teal image featuring several dandelion seed heads. The seed heads are in various stages of development, with some showing the characteristic umbrella-like structure of the seeds. The stems are thin and dark, extending upwards from the base. The overall composition is soft and ethereal, with a slight blur that gives a sense of depth and movement.

WHAT WOULD JESUS DO?

Mark 5:1-20 (Luke 8:26-39)

Healing of:

The Gerasene Demoniac

The Legion

The Mob

The Possessed One

The Incarcerated One?

“Don’t Punish Me”

“Go home to your people and report to them what great things the Lord has done for you, and how He had mercy on you.”

Breaking Stigmas: How Can the Body of Christ Respond?

Education

Mercy

Compassion

Love

Understanding

Care

Advocacy

Practical Suggestions

- Educate Yourself & Your Leaders
 - <http://www.samhsa.gov>
- Awareness Events (ie: Book Study)
 - <https://www.nbacares.org/stories-and-news/mental-health-book-study>
- Family / Children of Incarcerated Support Group
 - <https://www.childwelfare.gov/topics/supporting/support-services/prisoners/>
 - <https://nrccfi.camden.rutgers.edu>
- Justice and Advocacy Work
 - who.int/mental_health/policy/mh_in_prison.pdf
 - <http://www.nami.org/Search?searchtext=prisons&searchmode=anyword>

Closing – Sharing Perfect Love

Questions / Comments?

National Benevolent
Association
CALLED TOGETHER | CALLED TO CARE